PUBLIC MEETINGS, NOTICES & OPINIONS

Utah Dark Sky License Plate is Now Available

Effective immediately, the exciting new Utah Dark Sky specialty license plate is available to Utah vehicle owners. This elegant plate shows a family standing near Delicate Arch, gazing at a stunning view of the Big Dipper. It prominently features Dubhe, Utah's official state star, which points toward the North Star. The Dark Sky plate on your car will remind Utahns about the physical and spiritual benefits of dark nights for people and animals. The $25 annual donation included in the state specialty license plate fee will support Dark Sky programming in the Utah State Park system. To obtain the new plate for your vehicle, apply at <https://www.darkskyutah.org/news-events/dark-sky-license-plate>. Follow the instructions there to complete the Utah Department of Motor Vehicles (DMV) form, then go to the Shopify site to input billing information. After 500+ applications are received, Shopify will email you for secure payment. Only at that point will DMV start making and distributing the new plates.

The cost of each plate this year is $47.50; $22.50 to the DMV for the plate itself, plus the annual $25.00 donation to the Utah State Park system.

About DarkSky Utah

DarkSky Utah, a chapter of DarkSky International, is spearheading this campaign. We are a non-profit organization with several hundred members from all parts of the state. Our goal is to mitigate light pollution in our skies. Light pollution has been proven to be detrimental to human health, disturb the migration patterns of birds and other animals, and make both amateur and professional astronomy more difficult. ### CASTLE VALLEY DRIVE CONTINUES TO BE CLOSED for a culvert replacement project.

The road will be closed 24/7 at Rimrock and at 394 Castle Valley Drive while crews remove the existing culvert and install a large-capacity arch culvert. The town of Castle Valley secured federal grant funding for the project, which addresses a failing culvert.

Detour: Traffic will be routed up Castleton Road to Fire Station 1 (at the cattle guard), then back up Shafer Lane to Castle Valley Drive. Drivers should obey the 15 mph speed limit on Shafer Lane.

The Town will post weekly updates via email, the Town website, and the Castle Valley Facebook Community page. Questions or concerns can be directed to the Town Clerk at townclerk@castlevalleyutah.com or (435) 259-9828.

GRAND COUNTY, UTAH | AGING & COMMUNITY PLANNING | 2026

Creating a Place to Grow Old Well

Grand County is taking intentional, concrete steps to be a community where older adults thrive — and asking every resident to help shape what comes next.

Long-time residents have built their lives here and are now asking, “Can I grow old here, too?” Grand County’s answer is an unequivocal yes. And this year, the County is putting that commitment into action.

A COMMUNITY THAT PLANS TO AGE WELL

Grand County is working to become an aging-friendly community that supports its long-term residents at every stage of life. Instead of reacting to demographic change, the County is making an intentional investment in the kind of place we want this region to be in the coming years.

There is a clear motivation to act now. By 2030, one in five Americans will be 65 or older, and Grand County’s current population is older than both the state and national averages. Residents who have lived here for years are staying, and more are moving here later in life. Our residents want a community that meets their needs and appreciates what they bring.

Like most areas across the U.S., housing affordability in Grand County has become an urgent concern. Tourism and the County’s status as a Gateway Community place additional pressures on residents with fixed incomes. Add regional remoteness, and transportation becomes an even more pressing concern for Grand County’s older adult population, potentially making the difference between independence and isolation. And our caregiving workforce, which makes aging in place possible, is stretched thin across the entire region and competes with tourism for already-challenged compensation.

Building an aging-friendly community here means strengthening what already exists and building deliberately where gaps remain. When we invest in aging well, we invest in our whole community.

“An aging-friendly Grand County is not a program. It is a commitment to residents who have called Moab home and want to stay in the community where they built a life.”

ANNOUNCEMENT: A COMMUNITY-WIDE NEEDS ASSESSMENT

Before Grand County can close gaps, it first needs to understand them clearly with input from broad perspectives across the community. That’s why the County is conducting a comprehensive needs assessment and gap analysis for older adults. This is a county-wide effort to determine what services, supports, and infrastructure older adults need, assess how well current resources meet those needs, and identify the largest gaps.

The results of this assessment will directly inform policy decisions, funding advocacy, program development, and the County’s planning framework. When Grand County makes the case to state and federal funders for resources to support older adults, this assessment will serve as the foundation for that case. When the County prioritizes spending, this assessment will help ensure those decisions reflect the real needs of real residents and not just our assumptions.

We need community volunteers to help ensure broad feedback for this assessment. The goal is to include everyone — from older adults living at home, people in assisted living, family caregivers, service providers, healthcare workers, nonprofits, and community leaders. The assessment includes a survey, interviews with key stakeholders, and a focus group discussion.

The results will be published and shared with everyone. They will serve as an ongoing resource to guide Grand County’s planning for older adults in the years ahead. If you or someone you know has been affected by a gap, or could be, this assessment is your opportunity to ensure your experience is counted, understood, and acted on.

WE NEED EVERYONE TO PARTICIPATE — HERE'S HOW

- Fill out the survey for yourself and others online at grandcounty.org/Assessment — quick, accessible, and available now
- Ask to be included in the focus group process if you are a service provider, healthcare worker, advocate, or community leader by emailing econdev@grandcountyutah.gov
- Conduct interviews with older adults to complete the survey on their behalf — on your own or with guidance — by emailing econdev@grandcountyutah.gov
- Share this article and the survey link with every neighbor, family member, and friend who has a stake in aging well in Grand County

NEW ONLINE RESOURCE GUIDE

Finding Help Just Got Easier

Grand County has launched a comprehensive Community Resource Guide for older adults, now available on the County website at grandcounty.org/Guide. The guide is a centralized hub connecting older adults and their families to local services, programs, and supports — from healthcare and transportation to nutrition assistance, caregiver resources, legal aid, and more.

Navigating services for older adults has typically required knowing the right person to call or stumbling across the right flyer at the right moment. The Resource Guide puts clear, current information in one place. As new services become available and existing programs evolve, this guide will be updated. Please explore and share the guide and resources.

NEW MAPS CAMPUS MASTER PLAN

Planning the Future of Senior Living in Grand County

Grand County has worked with the Canyonlands Healthcare Special Service District to help develop and issue a Request for Proposals for a Master Plan for the MAPS campus — a process now underway and open to master planning and community design firms.

The MAPS Master Plan will chart a long-term vision for a thriving, well-designed community for older adults in Grand County, with facilities, services, housing options, and care infrastructure that will serve Grand County's vision for aging well for generations. It is an opportunity to plan intentionally — to ask what a comprehensive, community-rooted living environment looks like for a rural, place-centered community like ours, and to build toward that vision with purpose.

The results of the Needs Assessment will directly inform this planning process, ensuring the Master Plan is built on real data, real needs, and real community input. More information is available through the Canyonlands Healthcare Special Service District and at grandcountyutah.gov.

THIS IS JUST THE BEGINNING

Grand County is also actively researching state and federal funding sources to support the next phase of aging-friendly planning — to ensure that the plans being made can be resourced and sustained over time. The needs assessment, the resource guide, and the MAPS Master Plan process are all early steps in a larger, sustained effort to make Grand County a place where aging well is not the exception, but the standard.

*Take the survey. Share the resource guide. Stay engaged.
The future of aging in Grand County belongs to all of us.*
